KE HANDS CONGRESS NEW PROGRAM

U.N. Aide Urges Belgium To Quit Congo Immediately

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld, warning that the world faces the issue of peace or war, called today for immediate and unconditional withdrawal of Belgian forces from the Congo, including secessionist Katanga province.

He delivered the warning in a hard-hitting speech at the opening of an urgent meeting of the 11-nation U. N. Security Council on the Congo crisis. He had asked for the meeting. "I would even say that the immediate conclusion of the Congo problem is a question of peace or war," he declared.

He called on the Council to spell out in a resolution that the withdrawal should apply to Katanga "and to all parts of Katanga."

"I do not hesitate to say that the speediest possible — I would even say immediate — achievement of such a solution of the Congo problem is a question of peace or war, and when saying peace or war I do not limit my perspective to the Congo," he said. "A delay now, hesitation now, efforts to safeguard national or group interests now in a way that would hamper the UN effort, would risk values immeasurably greater than any of those which such action may be intended to protect."

"This applies to all parties, first of all to the one which the Security Council has addressed its appeal."

Hammarskjöld's personal report to the Council was delivered as various proposals were under consideration aimed at getting a UN force into Katanga province.

Premier Patrice Lumumba asked the Council to send a 10-nation observer team into the Congo to ensure withdrawal of Belgian forces.

Diplomatic sources said Ceylon and Tunisia probably would introduce a resolution specifying that the 12,000-man U.N. force in the Congo will not intervene in internal conflicts.

The aim would be to assure Katanga Premier Moïse Tshombe, who says his own troops will fight if the U.N. force tries to come in, that the U.N. force will not try to bring the province under the control of Premier Patrice Lumumba's central Congo government.

The resolution by Ceylon and Tunisia also was expected to call for withdrawal of Belgian troops from all the Congo.

Indications were that the Soviet Union might introduce a resolution of its own, or amendments to the Ceylon-Tunisia resolution, to authorize U.N. units to use any force necessary to get into Katanga.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov told a reporter Sunday he had not yet decided whether to submit a proposal but in Moscow the Soviet Communist newspaper Pravda said the Congolese wanted the Security Council to "issue an order to the U.N. forces for the immediate liberation of Katanga from the Belgian occupiers."

The council meeting was postponed until noon today so that a delegation from Lumumba's government could attend. Vice Premier Antoine Gizenga was expected to demand that the council send U.N. troops into Katanga immediately.

A three-man delegation from the Katanga government flew in Sunday night. Finance Minister Jean Kibwe told newsmen he would ask the United Nations to "declare a moratorium" in the dispute over Katanga's future, await the withdrawal of Belgian troops and then supervise a provincial referendum on independence from, or unity with, the Congo.

Kibwe said the referendum would show Katanga's people are entirely behind Tshombe's government. He told one reporter Katanga's 4,000-man army is strong enough to beat Lumumba's, which he described as "none at all."

Hammarskjöld said the U.N. troops were not authorized to shoot except in self defense. He suggested that the council make clear that the U.N. force would not turn the province over to the central government against its wishes.

SPEAKS OF CAPTIVE NATIONS — Senator John Kennedy speaks to a group from the Nationalities Division of the Democratic National Committee as Chairman of the division, Gov. G. Mennen Williams, Michigan, (right-rear) in shirt sleeves with familiar bow tie listens attentively. The Democratic Presidential nominee said that he and members of the committee were determined not to recognize the situation that exists behind the Iron Curtain as a permanent one.

U.S. Manned Space Satellite Program Still on Schedule

WASHINGTON (AP) — A top space agency official said today that the Project Mercury manned satellite program is "essentially along the same time schedule" as was initially planned.

Despite some published reports of serious lags in the program, "no major problems" have developed, Dr. Abe Silverstein said in an interview. He is director of space flight programs for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Silverstein reported that everything inside the Mercury capsule fired from Cape Canaveral, Fla.,

July 29, worked properly even though the Atlas launching vehicle failed.

The agency still plans to launch Mercury astronauts into sub-orbital flights this year and into orbits around the earth next year, as nearly on schedule as is possible in any ambitious research and development program, Silverstein said.

Seven men are being trained for orbital flights of 17,500 miles an hour, three or more times around the earth, at altitudes of 120 miles. These full-scale Atlas-launched missions will be preceded by sub-orbital test hops, in Redstone rocket-launched capsules, to an altitude of 125 miles and a distance of 200 miles down range from Cape Canaveral.

Dr. Homer Joe Stewart, NASA's director of program planning, told a National Rocket Club luncheon July 28 that the Mercury program, under way now for 18 months, has had "some small slippage."

Stewart said a sub-orbital manned flight "is still technically possible by the end of this year, but the margin is getting a little small."

What might have been a major step forward in the Mercury program—the first attempt at an Atlas-launched ballistic flight of a Mercury capsule — turned into a sharp setback when the rocket exploded 65 seconds after launching July 29.

Silverstein said the reason for the Atlas failure was still a mystery.

World Jurists Panel Lashes Red Chinese

GENEVA (AP) — The International Commission of Jurists, a private organization drawn from non-Communist countries, has published a 340-page report accusing the Red Chinese of a 10-year reign of atrocities in Tibet.

The commission said Sunday the Chinese Communists had killed, tortured, raped, abducted or sterilized thousands of Tibetans since invading the country in the early 1950s.

Only a couple of piles of lumber were salvaged from the second blaze. Firemen managed, however, to save houses in the immediate vicinity of each fire.

Posse Hunting Jail Escapee

Coshocton Area Told Man Is 'Dangerous'

COSHOCTON, Ohio (AP) — A three-county posse, aided by two bloodhounds, resumed the search of a nearby wooded area today, looking for a "dangerous-when-corned" jail escapee who may be totting a shotgun and who vowed, "They won't take me alive."

The fugitive, 21-year-old Gordon (Spunky) Firman, lived up to his nickname when he fled from sheriff's deputies Sunday in a stolen pickup truck amid a hail of bullets. But Firman only got about a mile away before he lost control of the truck on a curve, ran up an embankment and wrecked the vehicle. He is presumed to have then taken to the woods.

Deputy Sheriff Raymond Bechtol said the posse has 500 to 700 acres of woodland to comb if they are to flush out the six-foot, 185-pound Firman.

Throughout the night about 25 sheriff's deputies from Coshocton, Holmes and Knox counties ringed the wooded area about 14 miles north of here.

Firman was one of four Coshocton area men who broke out of the county jail here July 26.

Two came back to the jail and surrendered a week later, but Firman and Robert Johnson, 22, remained at large.

Johnson was captured Sunday at a garage near Flemming's Corner, north of here, when Firman left him stranded and took off in the stolen truck as four deputies closed in.

Bechtol said the truck, newly repainted by the pair, had just been repaired at the garage when the deputies rode up. Firman drove off and Bechtol and three fellow deputies fired four shots at the truck. Johnson tried to flee on foot but halted on command.

When deputies caught up with the truck, stolen at New Concord, it was already wrecked and Firman was gone. In the vehicle, Bechtol said, was merchandise taken in a burglary from a general store at nearby Blissfield.

Among things taken in the burglary were a shotgun and paint, the latter apparently used to disguise the truck.

Sheriff Ambushed By His Ex-Wife

COSHOCTON, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Jean Hoop, about 38, ex-wife of the Coshocton County sheriff, was being held without charge in county jail today after shooting and wounding the sheriff in an apparent ambush, police reported.

Sheriff William Hoop, 38, was shot in the chest by a .22-caliber revolver bullet that his ex-wife fired, police said. Coshocton Memorial Hospital said his condition was not serious.

Police said the sheriff disarmed Mrs. Hoop after the shooting early Sunday morning and took her to jail before he went to the hospital. There the slug was removed from his abdomen.

The Hoops have been divorced about six months.

When the sheriff left the home of B. B. Cook shortly after midnight and went to his car, his ex-wife apparently was lying in wait for him and started shooting, police said. No motive was disclosed.

Reckless Spending Is Decried in Special Message

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower laid before Congress today a bulky program ranging from foreign aid to medical help for the aged but warned against "reckless spending schemes."

"This truth we must take to heart: in good times, we must at the very least pay our way," he said in a special message sent to the Senate as it resumed its election-year session. The message also will be waiting for the House when it reconvenes a week hence.

Eisenhower seems to be trying to "embrace vast portions of the Democratic platform," Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said.

Johnson, Democratic vice-presidential candidate and Senate majority leader, said Eisenhower's message to Congress advocates the kind of domestic programs the President himself has vetoed or threatened to veto.

But Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois praised the message as one which will test the Democratic Congress' intentions on the promises made in the party platform.

"The President has spoken like a true craftsman in calling for action on his program and telling Congress to stay on the job until it is approved," Dirksen said.

In the face of Democratic, and some Republican, criticism that the nation's defenses are growing relatively weaker in the face of Communist threats, the President insisted U. S. military power "is second to none and will be kept that way."

Saying he was taking measures to improve the armed forces' readiness, he said these may necessitate "a modest increase" in military personnel and money. If funds are needed, he said, he will ask for them.

But national security demands congressional action too, Eisenhower said, and called for appropriation of the full amount authorized for foreign aid. He noted the appropriation bill for the mutual security program, as it now stands, is half a billion dollars under this.

"The nation's security and our inescapable interest in a stable world demand that these amounts be restored," Eisenhower said.

Congress authorized appropriation of $4,086,300,000 for foreign aid and mutual security, but the House voted to hold the actual appropriation to $3,584,500,000. The Senate has not yet acted on the appropriation bill.

Eisenhower advised Congress that he had already taken some actions to strengthen this country's military posture, and that the Defense Department would carry them out "with its available resources insofar as possible."

Six Injured In Accident On Main St.

Six persons suffered minor injuries in a two-car crash at 6:55 p. m. yesterday on Main and Pickaway Sts.

One of the autos was driven by Lester M. Nungester, 27, Route 1, Kingston. He suffered a head laceration.

Passengers in the Nungester car slightly injured were: Lulabelle Nungester, 20, Wanda Traddie, 10, Katherine Nungester, 1, and Inez Pollock, 55, Route 3, Circleville. All were treated for head injuries at Berger Hospital and released.

The other car was operated by William C. Adler, 41, Cleveland. He was not hurt.

EDWARD C. Majeski, 31, Cleveland, a passenger in the Adler vehicle, suffered a neck sprain. He was treated and released at Berger.

Adler told Patrolman Gerald Goldsberry he was stopped for a traffic light on Main St. He said the other car, also headed east, struck his vehicle in the rear.

Nungester said he was unable to stop his auto when the light at the intersection changed.

Patrolman Goldsberry said both cars were heavily damaged. He said Nungester was cited for failure to have assured clear distance ahead.

James C. Hagerty said the President's wording meant that some funds impounded by Eisenhower were being unfrozen, and that Congress would be asked for more money if needed.

Hagerty estimated the impounded amount at $1,600,000,000.

The President also told the legislators he wants:

1. A 100-million-dollar increase in flexible foreign aid funds "to keep America poised for sudden developments such as those in the Congo where a U. S. airlift and other efforts were needed suddenly and critically."

The House and Senate foreign aid legislation now pending would grant Eisenhower 150 million dollars for this contingency fund.

2. A 600-million-dollar authorization by Congress for a program of aid to Latin America. He asked approval for this fund by the time the economic conference of the American republics starts in Bogota, Colombia, Sept. 5.

3. Advance approval for a food-for-the-hungry proposal which he said will be presented to the United Nations General Assembly in September.

Eisenhower said this will be a program, "whereby we and other fortunate nations can, together, make greater use of our combined agricultural abundance to help feed the hungry of the world."

On the domestic side, Eisenhower listed upwards of a score of actions that he has said Congress should attend to now and not let them "go begging for months to come."

Eisenhower declared only 6 of 27 measures he had named last May as required by the national interest have been enacted into law so far.

He said Civil rights was the only major measure passed by Congress since his May 3 legislative message and that the civil rights bill had two major deletions which he hoped Congress would restore.

One deletion in the civil rights measure as passed by Congress, was a provision Eisenhower asked for grants by the federal government to states to help them in efforts for desegregating schools.

A second deletion was a provision for statutory authority for the Government Contracts Committee which seeks to avoid racial discrimination on work done on government contracts.

In listing again all the measures he had asked in May, and requesting action on them, Eisenhower said he had special comment on two—farm legislation and assistance to depressed areas.

As to a farm bill, particularly to deal with the wheat surplus program, Eisenhower said "the Congress has refused to accept my recommendations and insisted upon unrealistic programs which, of course, I have rejected."

He repeated what he has said before—that if Congress works out some different approach from his ideas and keeps it "within the guidelines, I will unhesitatingly approve it."

"The Congress should promptly provide the constructive remedies for agriculture so long and so urgently needed," he said.

As for aid to depressed areas, Eisenhower said:

"For five years in a row I have recommended area assistance legislation. Regrettably I had no choice but to veto the legislation the Congress did pass this session. It would have frittered the taxpayers' money away in areas"

Circleville Police were alarmed for a short time last night when it was thought a train had struck a vehicle at a local crossing.

Goldsberry said crossings from High St. to Scioto St. were blocked for a brief period.

Red-Controlled Dictatorship Said Headed for Cuban People

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, brandishing "its bluntest criticism of the Fidel Castro regime, has accused Cuba of racing into a Communist-controlled dictatorship."

The accusation was further evidence that both the United States and Cuba will step into an historic foreign ministers next week in an angry, unbending mood.

The hardening of Cuban policy was made clear over the weekend as the Castro regime, boasting of its close link with the Soviet Union, ordered the seizure of almost all American-owned property in the island.

More evidence of hardening may accumulate today as the 21-nation Council of the Organization of American States considers the agenda for the foreign ministers meeting in San Jose, Costa Rica Aug. 15.

The ministers tentatively are scheduled to discuss tensions between Venezuela and the Dominican Republic, and between the United States and Cuba.

But Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa has said, "We'll laugh at any resolution that condemns Cuba." His government has asked for a new agenda, which would feature Cuban accusations that the United States has committed economic aggression against Cuba and has interfered in her internal affairs.

The agenda change, already rejected by an OAS committee, will be considered here by the OAS Council.

The U.S. charges against Cuba came in a 78-page memorandum made public by the State Department well in advance of Castro's newest charges. The memorandum had been filed earlier with the Inter-American Peace Committee, an OAS unit that will report to the foreign ministers meeting.

Premier Castro's brother, Raul Castro, said Friday night "we are grateful for and we accept" Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's promise of military support.

Raul Castro's speech was followed Sunday by an announcement from the ailing prime minister that he would seize almost all the remaining American-owned property in Cuba.

2 Lebanon Prison Escapees Nabbed

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Police from nearby Mason today took into custody two men who escaped Sunday from the new Lebanon Correctional Institution near here.

Police Chief James Knott and another officer captured Wesley Ogden, 21, of Columbus, and James Ward, 20, of Cincinnati, as they walked along U.S. 52 two miles south of Mason. They did not offer resistance.

Knott said the men will be taken to the reformatory at Mansfield and from there will be taken to Ohio Penitentiary at Columbus. Both men were serving sentences for armed robbery.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Auditor James A. Rhodes reports that reimbursements to Ohio's 88 counties for expenses incident to criminal trials totaled nearly $2 million last fiscal year.

Cuban Militiamen Take Full Control Of $770 Million in Yankee Property

HAVANA (AP) — Armed Cuban militiamen were in full control of most of the American property in Cuba today following its nationalization by Fidel Castro's regime.

The revolutionary government's new retaliation against the United States came only a few hours before the island's Roman Catholic hierarchy warned against "the increasing advance of communism in our country."

It was the church's first official criticism of the steadily increasing influence of the Communist bloc on the Castro regime.

Prime Minister Castro and his ministers made plain that they stood firmly with the Soviet Union as an economic and military ally, regardless of what other Latin American governments might think.

Foreign Minister Raul Roa declared that Cuba would reject any resolution the Organization of American States, at its meeting opening Aug. 16, might adopt protesting Soviet interference in the Western Hemisphere. He asserted the Soviet Union's offer to defend Cuba against aggression could not be interference in the hemisphere's internal affairs.

Castro got out of a sick bed dramatically to announce the seizure of $770 million worth of American-owned property before a cheering crowd of 50,000 at the Red-tinted Latin American Youth Congress early Sunday morning.

Within hours armed militiamen began moving into the plants that included the Cuban Electric Co., the 300-million-dollar subsidiary of the American and Foreign Power Co. of New York and the largest single investment in the island.

A ranking official of the firm told a reporter "we don't have access to the building."

Other major American business es nationalized were the Cuban Telephone Co., in which the International Telephone and Telegraph Co. has a 27½-million-dollar equity; the Standard Oil (New Jersey) refinery, about $70 million; Texaco refinery, $45 to $50 million; Sinclair Oil Co. operations in Cuba, worth about $5 million and 36 American-owned sugar mills worth about $200 million.

Some of these plants had been under Cuban government control for some time but had not been formally expropriated.

Castro said that the seizures were in retaliation for "economic aggression" by the United States — and made plain he meant President Eisenhower's slash in U. S. imports of Cuban sugar.

However, the seizure decree did not extend to American banks, the 75-million-dollar Moa Bay Mining Co., the Nicaro Nickel Processing Corporation, and other smaller American enterprises worth about 300 million in all. But Castro indicated these may be taken over, declaring "we can still take a few things more away from them (the Americans)."

The expropriated property will be paid for with 50-year bonds at 2 percent interest, the decree said, but there was doubt whether any payments will ever be made.

With sarcasm, Castro repeated an earlier announcement that the money would come from one fourth of the value of all Cuban sugar bought by the United States in excess of 3 million tons yearly at a premium price of 5.4 cents a pound. Eisenhower's cut dropped U.S. sugar purchases from Cuba below 3 million tons for this year, and continuation of this policy would leave empty the reimbursement fund for American property owners.

Forecast for the road and bridge fund receipts is $6,000 with a total expenditure of $6,000 leaving another zero balance for December 31. A zero balance is estimated for the motor vehicle license tax fund, also.

Grange Master Lawrence Reid watched his wife remove some pies from the oven Saturday morning. Reid, who spent the major part of fair week working in the grange food booth, asked his wife how many pies she had baked during the week. She told him 15. And he wistfully announced that he had not had that first piece.

Contrary to rumors, the new grandstand at the Fairgrounds is NOT sagging in the center. The pre-stressed concrete seats have built-in curves to make them stronger. It might appear that they sag, but it's not true—they are supposed to be that way.

ASC Office Lists Musts For '60 Wheat

Wheat of the 1960 crop to be offered as security for a farm-storage price-support loan must have been stored in a satisfactory granary at least 30 days before it is inspected for measurement, sampling and sealing, Chairman Marvin G. Stealy of the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee said today in a harvest-time reminder to wheat growers.

Other principal farm-storage wheat loan requirements were listed by Stealy as follows:

1. Ownership of the wheat must rest in the producer who is seeking the loan or in him and a former producer whom he succeeded before the wheat was harvested.

2. Wheat must grade No. 3 or better, or grade No. 4 or No. 5 on the factor of test weight only, or be classed as mixed wheat provided the mixture is a natural product of the field.

3. Wheat grading "tough," "weevily," "ergoty" or "treated" is eligible for a farm-storage loan. The basic price support rate for farm-stored wheat in Pickaway County is $1.82 per bushel for No. 1 wheat. High protein content brings a premium. Discounts range from 1 cent a bushel for No. 2 to 15 cents a bushel for garlicky.

In addition there is a discount of 20 cents a bushel for 37 specified varieties which are classed as undesirable because of inferior milling or baking qualities.

Application for a wheat loan should be made the county ASC office, 206 S. Court St., Circleville.

Reckless Spending

(Continued from Page 1) where it was not needed and on programs that would not have benefited those truly in need of help.

"A new area assistance bill, with administration backing, was introduced immediately after my veto. It would channel more help directly into stricken areas than any previous measure proposed. Failure to act will deny this help for months to come. Human distress demands action now. If later we find there should be changes either in the dollar amounts or the methods used, experience will dictate the kind of adjustments to be made."

Although leaders have said they expect Congress to end its session before Labor Day, Eisenhower told the legislators they ought to tackle the program which he laid down and "stay on the job until it is done."

"Certainly," he said, "we cannot adjourn the public interest." Eisenhower made it clear he is prepared to meet with vetoes any measures he believes might call for deficit spending.

The President recited recent world events which he said denoted "an intensification of Communist treachery."

"Indeed," Eisenhower said, "the Soviet dictator has talked loosely and irresponsibly about a possible missile attack on the United States."

Eisenhower recalled the recent attack on an American plane over international waters. He said the Soviet delegation has walked out of the Geneva disarmament negotiations.

"The Communists continue to exploit situations of unrest, flagrantly striving to turn to their ends the struggles and hopes of peoples for a better world," he said. "These Communist efforts have recently reached new extremes in Central Africa."

"All of us know about Cuba." Eisenhower's message was directed to a Congress that took time out for the presidential nominating conventions and now is returning for an abbreviated session that could have a vital bearing on the outcome of the November election.

The message was addressed to both the Senate and House, even though the Senate alone reconvened today. The House returns next Monday.

Since the House was not in session, the message for it went to the House clerk.

Eisenhower said that to keep the nation in readiness for any eventuality he already has taken certain "practical measures" to strengthen the American military posture.

He said these measures include the deployment of additional aircraft carriers to the 6th and 7th fleets. He said a number of B47 medium bombers and accompanying tankers which had been scheduled to be phased out of U. S. forces will be retained in service for the time being.

In the area of long-range programming, the President said the capability of the Strategic Air Command to conduct a continuous airborne alert will be strengthened.

"More funds will be applied to the modernization of the Army combat equipment and to military airlift," he said. "Additional effort will be devoted to the development of the B70 and the reconnaissance satellite Samos."

Eisenhower said that during the congressional recess, extraordinary progress had been made in developing the Polaris ballistic missile submarine.

"It is with great satisfaction that I report to the Congress that the first test firings of the Polaris missile from her submerged nuclear submarine George Washington had rifle-shot accuracy at 100 miles."

"The time is now right to increase the scope of the Polaris program and five instead of three more submarines have been started this fiscal year. Furthermore,

I have directed the development of a much longer-range version of the Polaris missile, which will give America a weapon of even greater versatility, power and invulnerability."

Eisenhower said that the Defense Department will carry out these measures "with its available resources insofar as possible." He said weapons system programs will be carried out by utilizing appropriations already made by Congress.

"Total resources are adequate," he said, "although a modest increase in military personnel and in operation and maintenance funds may prove to be necessary to carry out the readiness measures. If such an increase should be required, I shall promptly request the necessary funds."

Although the President's outline appeared to recognize the statement in the Republican platform that defense operations should be stepped up, his failure to recommend any specific increase in defense appropriations seemed likely to draw the fire of Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the Democratic presidential nominee.

Kennedy and his Democratic associates have been demanding an increase of up to three billion dollars above the current level in defense spending.

The attitude of Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican presidential nominee, toward Eisenhower's military program statement was not clear at the moment.

An air of political controversy was apparent as both Democrats and Republicans sought to make the most of the August session.

Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the Democratic presidential nominee, said Sunday Eisenhower should send Congress this week an emergency defense spending program to bolster the nation's cold war strength.

He said Eisenhower could ask more money now; could unfreeze money already appropriated but not being spent; or could speed up other defense spending now and ask supplemental appropriations in January.

A backlog of other politically controversial bills before the session includes the always touchy foreign aid appropriation; proposed increases in minimum wages; medical care for the aged; federal aid for schools; and housing legislation.

Many of these were bitterly fought over in Congress before last month's recess. Their political import becomes stronger with the approach of the election campaign.

Leaders talked hopefully of adjourning by Labor Day, Sept. 5. But some members predicted mid-September would be a more likely adjournment date.

Most of the major figures in the national campaign will be involved in the Senate battles. Kennedy's Republican opponent, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, has the official job of presiding over Senate sessions.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic vice presidential nominee, plays a major role as his party's Senate leader.

The rival national party chairmen, Sen. Thurston B. Morton (R-Ky) and Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.), are leaders of their respective parties' campaigns.

Eisenhower said that during the congressional recess, extraordinary progress had been made in developing the Polaris ballistic missile submarine.

"It is with great satisfaction that I report to the Congress that the first test firings of the Polaris missile from her submerged nuclear submarine George Washington had rifle-shot accuracy at 100 miles."

Cordless Home Appliances Due During Future

New Cadmium Battery Seen as Key to Vast Line of Gadgets

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Cordless home appliances are taking shape on the drawing boards of a number of caterers to the electrical gadget wants of housewives and their husbands.

Electric shavers with built-in power are already on sale along with rechargeable portable radios. Designers are talking of cordless vacuum cleaners, lamps, dictating machines, clocks and electric lawn mowers.

The latest devices, some as small as thumbtacks, use nickel cadmium batteries instead of the conventional ones. The new cells are rechargeable over and over again and guaranteed not to run down while not in use.

Salesmen for the new products will stress freedom from the annoyance of cords and the convenience of usage where wall sockets aren't available.

But they'll have to overcome the resistance of the housewife to the higher price which the new batteries add to the gadgets.

Nickel cadmium battery sales are now running around 15 million dollars a year, but with most for industrial use as standby equipment rather than in household items. Makers of these batteries include Gould National Batteries, Willard and Exide batteries.

A Gould spokesman predicts that with the hoped-for expansion in the household and office fields, sales can rise to 75 million dollars by 1965.

Makers of plug-in type appliances question if inroads on electric cord devices will be that great.

Even at 75 million dollars the new batteries would be little threat to the conventional lead acid battery business, running around 625 million dollars a year.

For one thing, the nickel cadmium batteries would be much too expensive for use in autos. Present car batteries can be had for around $20. A nickel cadmium unit big enough for a car would cost between $300 and $325.

Small gadgets with small battery units offer a better field. Here's an example of how they work:

The Remington Rand cordless electric shaver is powered by two cadmium cells storing enough energy for 30 minutes use — some two or three weeks of quick shaving. When the battery runs down, the shaver is placed on a charging stand and plugged into an electrical wall socket, recharging in 24 hours. The makers say the cells can't be overcharged and are good for at least 15 years.

votes for a GOP presidential candidate. "Not because Richard is our relative," they say, "but because we think he's the best."

What's more, political prospects in these dusty, desolate hills of southeastern Ohio think much of Vinton County will follow suit.

Frank Nixon, late father of Vice President Richard Milhous Nixon was born in 1878 and raised a few miles south of this county seat in what is known as the Ebenezer community.

He grew up in a log house, now covered with gray shingles. It serves as a landmark of sorts, though torn sheets of plexiglass flap at the windows and the front yard is overrun with weeds.

A short walk down the road from the house is the small, white clapboard church Frank Nixon attended as a boy. An iron bell in the belfry of Ebenezer Methodist Church still summons worshippers to Sunday services, funerals and weddings.

Not far from these structures which give Vinton Countians reason to call Vice President Nixon a "son of a son of home soil" is the 193-acre farm of Roy Benson Nixon.

Hanging beneath his mailbox on Route 50 five miles west of town is a large placard carrying the name "Nixon," written with a flourish of calligraphy.

Richard Wayne Nixon, 40, sawmill operator and farmer, lounges against his old-model automobile a few yards up in the dirt driveway.

"Richard Milhous Nixon and I are sons of first cousins," he says after coming forward and extending his hand in a friendly grip. "But I expect you'll be wanting to see Pa about that."

He summoned Roy Nixon from a patch of vegetable garden across the way. "Hey Pa, the sheriff's come to serve a warrant on you," the son calls jokingly.

The elder Nixon straightens up and approaches his visitors slowly. He is 79 years old, going on 80. But his eyes beneath a peaked straw hat are young, alert, full of pride.

"I'd be the vice president's second cousin because I'm a full first cousin to his father," announces the old man as he leads the way into his house.

Not until everybody is seated in rocking chairs around an old-fashioned coal stove does talk start about the political interests of the Vinton County Nixons.

It comes from Mrs. Nixon, wife of Roy and mother of Richard. She is hot and tired after a day in the kitchen canning quart jars of pickles and green beans.

"We're Democrats," she announces, mopping perspiration from her forehead with the end of an apron. "But we're certainly going to vote for Richard. It seems to me he's fitted for the job."

Like other Vinton Countians, the Nixons are not too sure how the vice president's father got to be a Republican. But all chuckle heartily over the story Frank Nixon is said to have told before his death in 1956.

The story is that he owned the prettiest horse in town and was asked to ride in the parade when William McKinley visited McArthur during a campaign for Ohio governor. McKinley paid his compliments to the horse, then asked young Frank if he would vote Republican. Frank said he would.

Roy Nixon laughs at the story and admits Frank never told it to him.

Mrs. Nixon asks, "wasn't Frank's wife a Republican?"

Her belief that Frank turned Republican because of his wife is shared by Mrs. Kenneth Huggins, an Ebenezer resident who corresponded with Frank for several years.

"I think he changed because his wife was a Quaker and a Republican," asserts Mrs. Huggins, wife of the assistant county engineer.

Another who is skeptical about the horse story is George Burroughs, 79, a student at the one-room Ebenezer school when Frank was attending.

Says Burroughs: "Don't you take that story for granted. The Nixons only had one horse and Frank's father, Sam, used it all the time to carry the mail."

"I used to take my team of horses and go down there to do their plowing."

Burroughs claims only two Democratic families were in the neighborhood at the time — and the Nixon family was one of them. The area still is predominantly Republican.

Roy Nixon carries in the pocket of his blue denim a long list showing family marriages, births and deaths.

It shows that George Nixon III fought with the Union in the Civil War and died of wounds he received in the battle of Gettysburg. He left nine children, including Samuel Brady Nixon, father of Frank, and Hiram Nixon, father of Roy. Samuel Brady Nixon was a mail carrier, farmer, school teacher and carpenter. His children were Wadsworth, Frank, Ernest, Hugh, Carrie and Irene.

Frank worked as a hand on Vinton farms as a young man. At one point he and his cousin, Roy, went to Columbus, Ohio, where they became street car conductors.

Frank later moved to Whittier, Calif., where he met and married Hannah Milhous, the Republican Quaker.

Roy returned to Vinton County. Folks along the main stem of this town have had a lot to talk about since Richard Milhous Nixon first burst into national prominence.

They devour local and out-of-town newspapers, tune in all political broadcasts on television. And they're recalling all kinds of anecdotes about Frank Nixon.

One recalls the time Frank arrived at school with short, precisely cut hair on one side of his head and long, uneven locks on the other.

"Pa had the bowl on my head and was in the middle of cutting my hair when it came time to go to school. So he quit," Frank explained to classmates.

George Burroughs describes Frank as "just a little bit windy." He declares, "Frank never changed either. When he was back here to visit 12 or 13 years ago, he hadn't changed. So if Dick makes good speeches, he gets it honest."

And Roy Nixon tells of a visit by Frank.

"We was settin' right out there on the front porch talkin'." Richard was makin' a big name for himself in the Congress and I said to Frank, 'How about that boy of yours gettin' along so good?'

"Frank touched me on the arm and answered, 'That boy's the best orator you ever heard.'"

Roy met his famous cousin only once. That was when some Vinton County politicians decided it would be a good idea to take him to Columbus where the vice president was filling a speaking engagement.

"Somebody busted up on the stage draggin' me," relates Roy. "And you know what Richard said?"

"He said, 'why I'da knowed him by his nose. It's a family characteristic.'"

Softness Toward Communism

United States government has sanctioned trade with Poland, and has extended the Warsaw satellite government $400 million aid in recent years, but Washington expresses official concern to allies over the trend toward extending commercial credits to the Soviet bloc for the purchase of strategic materials.

Allied governments have agreed, through the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, not to extend such credits. But apparently they have trouble denying private enterprise in their countries the right to bid for contracts in the communist lands, even though some of the bids involve strategic materials. Such materials, of course, enhance the military power of the Soviets.

West German companies, for example, have made three big sales of steel products to Russia, thus supplementing Moscow's lagging industrial procurement system. The West German companies do that despite their knowledge that Moscow would move in and communize them if it had the power.

Washington has tried to convince the German countries that they would be contributing much more to their future and to the future of the free world by making sales to aid the lagging economies of uncommitted nations of Asia, Africa and Latin America. Apparently, however, Soviet deals are easier to make and are more immediately remunerative.

But this is extreme short-sightedness and marks the apparent softness of West German business toward the communist world plot.

Our Penny May Join the Farthing

British government has announced it is withdrawing the farthing (one-quarter of a penny) from circulation. The reason: Inflation has robbed the farthing of all purchasing power.

Here is a graphic lesson of what the world wars of this century have cost people everywhere, in terms of inflation which has eroded the value of currency.

The time was, before World War I, when British children could buy a reasonable quantity of candies with their farthing. Bakers and dairies used them to give change for a purchase of a half pint of milk or half a loaf, when the cost of a pint of milk or a full loaf ended in a halfpenny. Nowadays price changes of such commodities are in pennies.

As recently as 1943 the British Royal

Mint struck more than 33 million farthings. Of late few have been needed as farthings didn't change hands often enough to wear thin.

Although this century has seen a fast slide in the valuation of currency, this appears to be an ever present phenomenon of civilization. History reveals that a sheep could be bought for 6 pence (worth 7 American cents in today's rates) in the 14th century in England. But somehow, as the economy of Europe improved and the common man had more money to spend, prices climbed and there was a slow pecking away at the value of money.

Maybe this is inevitable in civilization. But it does make one wonder whether the penny may someday join the English farthing on the museum shelves.

Women Found 'Germ-Proof'

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

One reason women outlive men seems to be that they are more germ-proof. Of 365 disease conditions, men are more susceptible to 245, women to only 120.

Most kids believe bubble gum is new. Actually it was first introduced in 1906, but it was too sticky for the children of that day. Modern bubble gum, made with a synthetic base, was developed in 1928.

Do you really dislike your job? If you do you are an exception. A recent study showed that 82 per cent of the working public felt they would be no happier with a different job.

What's in a name? Joe Sharp, a member of Sammy Kaye's troupe, has a brother-in-law named Jim Flat.

Queen Elizabeth of England is a lucky monarch, and here's one fact about her more women might envy than her crown—she doesn't have to diet. Two of her favorite foods are grapefruit and roast lamb.

Canine society news: The poodle now has passed the beagle as America's most popular purebred dog. The Chihuahua ranks third and the dachshund fourth. Who can remember when to own an airedale or a collie was a mark of distinction?

Apt definition: Arthur Murray says you can always tell a family man—He is the one whose wallet holds snapshots instead of money.

Speaking of money, here is one more possible proof that women can handle it better than men: some 10 million U. S. men—compared to only 4 million U. S. women—have had to hock a personal possession in a pawn shop at some time in their life to raise ready cash.

Woodman, spare that tree: Can anyone present recall when people ate indoors and cooked with gas or electricity? Americans now use 350,000 tons of charcoal a year in backyard barbecues, and the industry expects the figure soon to soar to 500,000 tons.

The good old days: In 1895 there were only four automobiles registered in this country.

Can you spell penitentiary correctly? If you can you are a better speller than three out of four adults.

Wise crack of the week: "The honeymoon is over," says Robert Q. Lewis, "when a fellow would rather see the kitchen in good shape than a good shape in the kitchen."

One way to live longer may be to leave your car parked in the garage on Saturday. Of the 37,800 Americans killed in car accidents, last year, nearly one fifth died in Saturday crashes.

Liberal, Conservative Tags

By George Sokolsky

Words may have meaning; they may be images; they may arouse emotions. They may really mean nothing. I was pondering on the words liberal and conservative as used in the Democratic conventions and came to the conclusion that while there were no precise definitions, there were images, pictures, emotions.

For instance, in 1952 Joe McCarthy was a problem to both the Democrats and the Republicans. He was regarded as a conservative, a Fascist, a hero, an anti-Communist, a pawn-in-the-neck. But really how could one define Joe McCarthy in precise terminology? He advocated 110 per cent parity but he would put every Communist in prison. Study that equation and what does it come up to in terms of ideas? Would not 110 per cent parity cripple our economy so that the Communists could take us over? I once argued this point with Joe, who, despite all that has been said about him, was an intelligent man. The answer to this puzzle is that whereas anti-Communism is an emotional response to a profane phenomenon, it can be advocated by a liberal as well as a conservative. As a matter of historic fact, the most effective fighters against Communism both in Europe and the United States are Socialists or ex-Communists; that is, Marxists.

The term, liberal, does not help us too much. It is a catch-all word used for many purposes and describing many states of mind. All the candidates of both parties regard themselves as liberals. But what do they mean? Kennedy wants more government; Nixon less. Both will be forced by the course of events to have more government if the Cold War lasts another four years. It matters little what they say now; the course of events, altogether beyond their control, will determine the conditions.

Nixon recognizes that whether he or Kennedy is elected President, an explosion of ideas, events, movements will have to be met, but the means, he says, employed will be different. The factors of time, place, associates, enemies, neutrals will all have to be taken into consideration.

For example, at a moment when the United States was closest in alliance with Great Britain and France, the Suez war exploded. John Foster Dulles had minutes in which to weigh in the balance the attitude of the United States. Were we ready for a universal war? Was Russia ready? Would Russia risk that our unreadiness would be advantageous to the Kremlin? Could France, Great Britain and Israel hold the Arab forces at bay until the United Nations could settle the problem? If war broke out could it be localized or would it lead to a general war? Would the American people support a general war?

These decisions had to be made fast. The cost of error could be very great. For instance, when President Eisenhower permitted Khrushchev to abuse him in Paris, was he right? Should he have lost his temper and entered into a competition with a skunk? Should he have demanded that the summit meeting proceed without Khrushchev? Should we have declared war on Soviet Russia—such a one as the War over Jen-kin's Ear?

Or to take one more example: Our State Department put Castro into power in Cuba. It turned out to be an error. Should we forthwith have sent our Marines into Cuba to take over?

These are a few samples of problems that come up and must be dealt with. Such problems will become more numerous as the Communist onslaught increases in intensity. Whether a man terms himself a liberal or a conservative, he will face these same problems. One day, it will be in the Congo; another day in Venezuela; another day on the streets of Ankara or San Francisco.

Whether a man is, by conviction, a follower of John Stuart Mill or Karl Marx or neither, he will nonetheless be faced by these problems and their immediate consequences. Usually political decisions are postponable and the politician is generally skilled in the gentle art of cover-up or confusion. After all, his task is to control human beings and their decisions. But in this era, he deals with historic problems which cannot be postponed. Every error on our part, even an error of timing, assists the enemy. Therefore, the liberal and the conservative, unless he supports the enemy, will reach the same conclusion and be forced to employ identical means.

LAFF-A-DAY

"Let's go home now, George—George—?"

Inactivity May Hurt Heart

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

The stress of daily living may not be so bad, after all, even for heart patients.

Rest, of course, is essential for any patient until the heart damage has been healed sufficiently. After this, however, inactivity apparently serves no useful purpose and might even be harmful.

Many doctors feel that rest and inactivity for such patients do not prolong life. This is quite a departure from the advice most doctors have been handing out for years.

As a matter of fact, too much rest is likely to lead to physical and emotional incapacity.

An article in a recent edition of Circulation, the official journal of the American Heart Association, explains it this way:

If we are to rehabilitate heart patients properly, we must accept the philosophy that work is a normal part of living. Work is important for the physical and emotional well-being of the individual. It's that simple.

Solving the physical problems of a cardiac patient is usually a great deal easier than solving the psychological ones.

Over-protective wives and children can be quite a handicap to husbands and fathers suffering heart ailments. Well-meaning but thoroughly misinformed friends, may also hinder the patient's recovery.

The boss may be a further hindrance. There is a general reluctance on the part of industry to hire cardiac patients.

Not only is this bad for the individual patient, but it can prove bad for industry, too. After all, there are about 10,000,000 persons in this country suffering from various stages and forms of heart disease right now.

Since this number increases every year, it seems pretty obvious to me that industry cannot continue to ignore this group. Our national economy simply can't afford to keep such a large force idle indefinitely.

We have weeks to mark this illness and that illness. Maybe we should also have a "Get the heart patients back to work" week.

Question and Answer
Mr. A. C.: Is there a possibility that cirrhosis due to alcoholism can be cured if the person stops drinking?

Answer: The damage to the liver already done usually cannot be fully repaired, but further damage may be prevented by stopping drinking.

A Bible printed in 1810 is known as the "Ears to Ear Bible" because it quotes Matthew 13:43 as "Who hath ears to ear, let him hear."

Summer Doldrums Appear To Be Pestering Business

NEW YORK (AP)—Business appears to be pestered these days by summer doldrums.

The steel and automobile industries operated at a slow pace and the stock market edged lower on light volume of trading and then came back almost to the starting point.

But there was a sign that the wind is stirring and that the economy's sails soon should be filling out:

The first 1961 model automobiles began rolling off assembly lines.

That means there will be big orders for steel and more freight business for the railroads.

The 1961 model production was just a trickle: 1,000 Valiants, 100 Dodge Lancers and 225 Buick Specials.

Automakers accelerated the closing down of 1960 model assembly lines to make the change-over. This reduced the week's output to an estimated 102,000 cars from 107,024 last week and 108,240 a year ago.

Sales in July totaled 428,354 cars, down 1.5 per cent from July 1959. This was the first month this year that sales had fallen below the corresponding month of last year.

Production in July was 434,377 cars, compared with 555,422 a year ago. But output for the first seven months amounted to 4,243,871, about 10 per cent ahead of 1959.

Sales on the New York Stock Exchange amounted to 12,843,800 shares compared to 13,863,740 last week.

Bond sales totaled $24,032,100 par value compared with $22,772,000 last week and $28,045,000 a year ago.

The steel industry boosted output slightly as orders started to dribble in. The week's operating rate was estimated at 55.1 per cent of capacity, compared with 53.3 the previous week.

Steelmakers have been putting pressure on users to place orders now to prevent shutdown of some mills.

The trade publication, Iron Age, said the bottom apparently has been reached, and a sharp upturn should develop after Labor Day. However, Iron Age added that indications are that the fall increase won't be as strong as expected earlier.

Retail trade was unchanged to four per cent higher, depending on the area, this week than a year ago. Back-to-school buying for children showed a gain and there was increasing interest in women's fall apparel.

The aircraft industry got a shot in the arm with announcements of plans for big purchases of planes.

The Navy will award Douglas Aircraft Co. contracts totaling 600 million dollars to build 120 missileer planes which will carry air-to-air missiles. The Air Force said it will buy 150 jet transports whose cost will total between 750 and 900 million dollars. Eastern Airlines placed a 44-million dollar order with Boeing Aircraft Co. for 10 medium-range jet transports.

The Labor Department forecast moderate gains in employment by mid-September, which is usual for that time of the year. Most of the increases are expected in the auto and steel centers. Some gains also are looked for in fabricated metals and electrical machinery.

The First National City Bank of New York reported that business profits declined in the second quarter and that prospects for a record this year are waning. The combined net income of 721 non-financial corporations totaled $3,200,000,000, down 3 per cent from the first quarter and 12 per cent from the 1959 second quarter.

Wholesale food prices shot up sharply, equalling the year's high. The Dun & Bradstreet index, representing the cost at wholesale of one pound each of 31 foods in general use, reached $5.98, compared with $5.91 the previous week.

Briefly around the business scene: General Electric Co. received patents on a process for making synthetic diamonds. The United States plans official exhibits at nine international trade fairs abroad next fall. New York may have another stock exchange.

The National Stock Exchange has filed an application with the Securities and Exchange Commission. Production of electricity in the United States hit a new high of 14,746,000,000 kilowatt hours in the week ended July 30. Sears Roebuck & Co. sales exceeded two billion dollars in the first six months of its fiscal year for the first time.

ANOTHER KENNEDY-JOHNSON 'TICKET'—Just like the Democratic National convention results, Kennedy came in first and Johnson second at the U.S. Naval hospital in Bethesda, Md. Mrs. Herbert S. Kennedy (left) and Mrs. Theodore R. Johnson, Jr., entered the hospital at the same time, but Mrs. Kennedy's 10 pound, 4 ounce boy arrived ahead of Mrs. Johnson's 6 pound, 4 ounce girl. Neither woman is related to Democratic candidates John F. and Lyndon B.

Mrs. Stout Feted at Dorcas Pathfinders Class Supper

The Dorcas Pathfinder class of the Calvary EUB Church, held a Automat Supper Tuesday in the church basement with 13 members and three guests present.

Before the supper, everyone sang "Happy Birthday" to Mrs. Carrie Stout, who celebrated her 85th birthday that day. Mrs. Mark DeLong then gave thanks.

Following the meal, a business meeting was called to order by the president which was opened by the group singing "Tis So Sweet To Trust in Jesus". Mrs. Harry Hosler was in charge of devotions. She read the 103 Psalm and selected a reading entitled "Gods Personal Concern".

The class decided to make another donation to the church fund in September. A Free Will offering will be taken at the September meeting as a project for the class treasury.

Thank you notes were read from Mr. and Mrs. Findley Jones and Mrs. Louise Rader.

Gladolias, which decorated the table for the evening, were taken to Miss Minnie Wilkerson and Myrtle Theffner, who are patients at the Mount St. Home and Hospital. A vase of red roses was given to Mrs. Carrie Stout on her birthday. Flowers were also sent home to Elizabeth Kilhu, S. Pickaway St.

The next meeting will be September 6, with Mrs. Mark DeLong and Mrs. James Stewart as hostesses.

Guests for the evening were: Miss Donna Wise, Miss Janie Wise and Miss Mildred Heffner.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

He's Using a Lame Excuse

DEAR ABBY: I am very much in love with a man. He told me he was very fond of me but not to plan on marriage because he was married once and his wife double-crossed him and he will never be able to trust another woman again.

I love him, Abby, and have proved it in every way I know how, but he still says his bad experience can't let him trust another woman. Does his excuse make good sense to you?

WANTS A WEDDING RING
DEAR WANTS: It makes about as much sense as a man who will borrow a car but refuses to buy one—because he once got stuck with a lemon.

DEAR ABBY: Please don't tell me to send my husband to our clergyman because he would never go. In fact, he even stay's away from funerals because he thinks the minister is talking about him.

My husband has a drinking problem. One night he was passed out on the sofa when my sister and her husband came over, so we just let him lay there. Suddenly he jumped up like a mad man and slapped my face. He said he saw me kissing my brother-in-law. He must have been dreaming. My sister took my part, so he kicked her. Then her husband got mad and hit my husband and the fight started. It took the police to break it up.

I left my husband that night. A week later his mother called and said he had a stroke, so I ran over. It wasn't a stroke. He was dead drunk again. Abby, he is so grand when he is sober—a good worker and good father to our four kiddies. He promised if I'd take him back he'd quit drinking. How can I tell if he means it this time? He's promised before.

DRUNKARD'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: Give him another chance—on condition that he show his sincerity by calling "A.A." Thousands of alcoholics have returned to lives of sobriety and self-respect with the help of this organization. And like the best things in life—it's free!

DEAR ABBY: We are newlyweds who just moved into an apartment. An elderly couple (he is an invalid) have the apartment across the hall. They seem to be very nice people, but here is the problem:

The first morning we were here I smelled burnt toast from their apartment. I let it go, thinking anybody can accidentally burn toast. The next morning I smelled burnt toast again. The same thing happened on the third morning. Finally I went over there and asked her how come she was burning the toast every morning. She said her husband LIKED it that way. Should I complain to the landlord? My husband says for me to skip it.

Easy-Do and Delicious Summertime Desserts

By ALICE DENHOFF
In the blaze of summer days, it is good to have on hand a file of desserts that are easily prepared and ever so attractive to eye and palate.

One recipe of this type and a good choice when dealing with the calorie-conscious, produces 4 grapefruit pies.

To prepare, halve two large grapefruit and cut between sections. Pour tsp. maraschino cherry juice on each grapefruit half.

Combine 1 pkg. meringue mix, 2 tsp. maraschino cherry juice and 3 tsp. water. Beat until meringue mix holds stiff peaks.

Fold in 1/4 (about 10) chopped, drained maraschino cherries.

Spread meringue over grapefruit halves and bake at 375 degrees F. until delicately browned.

For a richer snack, try Cherry Cookie Sandwiches.

To serve 6, combine 1 c. heavy cream, whipped, tsp. grated lemon rind, tsp. lemon juice and 1/4 c. chopped maraschino cherries, mixing lightly.

Spread mixture on 2-in. vanilla wafers, top with more wafers; then more cream mixture, fifth top layer of wafers.

Spread remaining cream mixture on sides and top of each three-decker "sandwich" and top with a walnut half.

And here's a good recipe for a quickly-done tutti-frutti ice cream, something for a special occasion.

To prepare 4-6 servings, soften 1 pt. vanilla ice cream, then combine with 1/4 c. red and green maraschino cherries, drained and chopped fine, 1/4 c. chopped, seedless raisins, 1/4 c. finely-chopped walnuts and 1/4 c. finely-chopped dried apricots.

Mix thoroughly, working all ingredients as evenly as possible through the softened ice cream.

Freeze until firm.

Hattley, who has been working as a farmer and laborer at Batavia, Ohio, was arrested on a downtown street corner Sunday. Shortly before that he had escaped through a police net several blocks away. Police said Hattley was serving a 1-10 year sentence for burglary when he escaped.

Dick Groat's Bunt Proves Mighty Wallop for Bucs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dick Groat may not hit a home run or steal a base all year but today, with the National League season two-thirds over, he must be rated a leading candidate for most valuable player honors.

The 29-year-old Duke alumnus gave an example of his ingenuity as the Pirates swept a doubleheader from San Francisco Sunday 4-1 and 7-5 to pull away to their biggest lead of the season — 5½ games over Milwaukee and St. Louis.

It happened in the eighth inning of the nightcap. The score was tied 5-5 and Pittsburgh's Bill Mazeroski was on third following his single and bunts by pither Elroy Face and Joe Christopher.

Groat did the last thing the Giant defense expected. He bunted — the Pirates' third straight bunt. There wasn't even a play on Mazeroski at the plate and when Orlando Cepeda threw wildly to first, Christopher also scored.

Groat also played an important role in the opener, with three hits and one run batted in. His five hits in the two games gave him a league-leading total of 137 and boosted his batting average to .312, fourth high in the circuit.

The Braves regained second place from St. Louis, eking out a 5-4 victory over Chicago's Cubs while the Cards were held to a split by Cincinnati. The Redbirds won the nightcap 4-2 after the Reds had amassed 21 hits for 18-4 victory in the opener. Los Angeles's fourth-place Dodgers climbed to within a game of second, taking two from Philadelphia 8-7 and 2-1.

Bob Friend scattered seven hits, struck out six and coasted to his 12th Pittsburgh victory in the opener. A seventh-inning home run by the Giants' Hobie Landrith cost him a shutout.

Pittsburgh overcame a 5-0 deficit in the nightcap. After pecking away at Billy O'Dell for single runs in the second and fourth, they tied it in the fifth on a three-run homer by Christopher, his first in the majors. Elroy Face, in relief, picked up his sixth triumph.

Johnny Roseboro, Tommy Davis, Maury Wills and pitchers Larry Sherry and Sandy Koufax were the stars of the Dodgers' double triumph. Roseboro doubled Davis home in the ninth to break a 7-7 tie in the opener. Sherry, who finished with six scoreless innings after a shaky start, received credit for his ninth victory.

Koufax struck out 11 and allowed only four hits in the nightcap.

Kenny Boyer's bases-loaded single in the seventh of the nightcap drove in the winning runs as the Cards overcame a 2-1 deficit. Cincinnati's attack in the opener included a grand slammer by Jerry Lynch, three doubles by Wally Post and five hits by rookie third baseman Cliff Cook.

Warren Spahn registered his 12th triumph of the year for the Braves and raised his lifetime victory total to 279 but he had to survive an eighth-inning rally. The Cubs shelled him from the mound with a four-run attack that included Frank Thomas' three-run homer.

The main rap against the Baltimore Orioles was their almost total lack of power.

The experts last spring conceded Paul Richards' kiddie crew had speed, defense and pitching. But who besides Gus Triandos and Gene Woodling were capable of providing the long ball?

Richards showed 'em Sunday. The supposedly weak-hitting Orioles banged out 30 hits, including six home runs and two doubles in their 8-6 and 9-2 sweep of a doubleheader from Cleveland. They slammed five home runs in the first game to set a club record. Woodling hit one. The others were made by Jim Gentile (2), Jackie Brandt and pitcher Jack Fisher.

The double triumph boosted the third-place Orioles to within a half-game of second and two games of the top.

The runner-up Chicago White Sox whittled New York's first-place lead down to 1½ games by winning a pair from Washington 9-7 and 3-2 while Kansas City was holding the Yankees to a split in their twin bill. The Athletics won the second game 13-3 after New York had won the opener 3-2. Detroit and Boston divided a pair, the Tigers winning the first game 7-2 and the Red Sox taking the second 1-0.

Dykes Taking Close Look at Tribe Pitchers

CLEVELAND (AP)—When Jimmie Dykes took over as Cleveland manager last Friday he said he needed a few days to get acquainted. He's become acquainted with the Indians' pitching staff pretty quick—especially Sunday.

Baltimore shelled eight pitchers for 30 hits, including six home runs, in sweeping a doubleheader 8-6 and 9-2.

"The pitching can't be that bad," moaned Dykes in the clubhouse after the double loss. "I've looked at good pitching up to now (while managing Detroit). I've got to get used to this."

The Indians dropped eight games off New York's league-leading pace. And they now are six games behind third-place Baltimore.

Five home runs—two by Jim Gentile who drove in five runs—did the job for the Orioles in the opener. The second game, interrupted twice by rain for more than an hour, really showed up the bad points of the Indians' pitching. Milt Pappas, on the other hand, scattered seven hits and breezed to his 10th triumph.

Gene Woodling, Jackie Brandt and pitcher Jack Fisher hit home runs in the opener, in addition to Gentile's two blasts into the upper deck in right field.

Fisher's homer in the eighth inning, off Bobby Locke, broke a 6-6 tie and the Orioles added another run that same inning.

Brandt also homered in the first inning of the nightcap as the Orioles broke on top 2-0. They added two runs in the fourth, three in the fifth and another pair in the sixth to make it a rout.

With two out in the ninth inning of the nightcap, Johnny Romano got Cleveland's only home run.

OU Cagers Set For OSU Opener

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio University has released its 1960-61 basketball schedule which calls for 12 conference and 11 non-conference games.

The Mid-American Conference champs take on Ohio State, a team they haven't played since 1938, in the opener Dec. 1 at Ohio U.'s new two-million-dollar gymnasium. The game will mark the dedication of the gym, the B. T. Grover Physical Education Center.

After Ohio State, which holds a 6-0 edge in games against the Bobcats, Ohio U. faces tough tests against other non-conference foes including St. John's (Dec. 16 at Madison Square Garden), DePaul (Jan. 10), St. Francis of Pennsylvania (Dec. 10 away and Feb. 13 at home) and Louisville (Feb. 15 way).

Akron Grocer Kills Wife, Wounds Self

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Police say Charles A. Himebaugh, 68-year-old Akron grocer, apparently killed his wife Sunday, then shot and wounded himself. The shooting occurred in the kitchen of the couple's home.

It climaxed a series of quarrels that started with their marriage six years ago, police said. Dead is Mrs. Linnie E. Himebaugh, 53, shot through the back of the head with a .38-caliber pistol. Himebaugh, wounded in the right side of the head, was in fair condition at General Hospital and was being questioned.

North Grid Coach Shuns Platoon Plan

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Leo Strang of Massillon, head coach of the North squad in the 15th annual North-South high school all-star football game here Saturday night, says he will not use the platoon system.

That decision was reached, he said, following a rugged scrimmage Saturday morning.

"Our defensive team defeated the offensive team three touchdowns to two in the scrimmage," Strang said. "This has caused us to re-evaluate our former plans and now there is a good possibility that at least five of the boys may see duty both ways."

The coach said that Paul Warfield of Warren, who intercepted two passes in the Saturday workout, will be used on both offense and defense.

He praised Warfield as the "best all-around high school player I have seen. He is even a good passer."

Head coach Pete Ankney of Kettering Fairmont plans a little rough stuff for his South squad this week. He said considerable time would be spent on polishing up the defense, which was lackluster in the two drills Saturday.

Roy Eberhard, 225-pound tackle from Cleveland John Adams, and Bob Ehrhardt, 170-pound back from Brush High School at Lyndhurst, will join the North all-stars today.

Eberhard replaces end Gene Mitschke of Fremont Ross, who returned home with a leg injury. Ehrhardt will sub for Al Paone of Alliance, who suffered a sprained ankle in his first day in camp. Paone was a replacement for Chuck Robinson of East Palestine, who came down with the mumps.

Some Life Still Remains In Redlegs

CINCINNATI (AP)—There is some life in those Cincinnati Reds hitters, believe it or not.

Even General Manager Gabe Paul's ailing back improved Sunday although the Reds only managed an even break in a doubleheader with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Someone remarked after the first game which the Reds won, 18-4, that "betcha Gabe Paul got up and walked right out of that hospital."

Actually, Paul went home Saturday but he reported he was feeling much better even though the Reds dropped the second game, 4-2.

The 18 runs the Reds scored in the first game was their biggest total of the season. When they scored seven runs in the third inning it was their biggest inning since they tallied seven against Chicago May 12.

Jay Hook was the winner although Bill Henry pitched the last two innings.

The Reds opened the third inning in that first game with a string of four straight hits and they blasted starter Larry Jackson for all seven runs before he was relieved by Ronnie Kline.

Kline took an 11-run plastering during his tenure on the mound with the climax a grand slam home run by Jerry Lynch in the eighth.

The Reds had 21 hits off Jackson, Kline and Bob Grim, with Rookie Cliff Cook having a five-for-five effort. Wally Post had three doubles. Lynch and Cook each drove in four runs and Eddie Kasko, with three hits, drove in three.

The Reds got nine more hits in the second game but four double plays by the Cards killed off their efforts.

Houston Tipped As Browns End

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—Jim Houston of Ohio State, the No. 1 draft choice of the Cleveland Browns who was pegged for defensive end, may be switched to the offensive team.

The possible switch in plans is due to the fine work of the defensive line in last Saturday's scrimmage. Jim Marshall, Paul Wiggins, Bob Gain and Floyd Peters all were outstanding.

Also, Coach Paul Brown believes Houston has the speed to make the grade as a slot end.

And the receiving department remains thin. The top pass-catchers are speedy flanker Ray Renfro, veteran Glen Naylor and Rich Kreitling, a second-year man from Illinois. After that the talent declines rather sharply.

Ohio Business Women To Hold Akron Talks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs will hold a clinic in Akron promoting small business relations. A spokesman for the organization said the clinic, with Miss Almira Hannaford of Cincinnati as general chairman, will be held in the Akron Hotel Nov. 5-6. The federation will also sponsor a luncheon in Columbus Jan. 21 to honor women in policy-making post on the state government level in Ohio.

All-Stars Split With Whitehall

Circleville's Babe Ruth League All-Star team split a doubleheader with a formidable Whitehall team here Saturday.

Whitehall clipped the locals, 3-2, in the first test, but the Circleville nine came back to capture the night cap, 7-2.

The Circleville win was climaxed by the three-hit pitching of Ashville's Tom Rathburn and a bases-loaded triple by George Reeser of the DuPont team.

Whitehall moved to victory in the first test by scoring single runs in each of the fourth, fifth and sixth frames. The locals had taken a 2-0 lead with runs in the first and the second.

ROBINSON, replacing Millington in the third, picked up the win for Whitehall by allowing only one hit in the innings he worked.

Wendell Lovett was charged with the loss after coming on for Johnny Good in the fifth with the score tied at 2-2. Whitehall scored its winning tally on three straight walks and an error.

Rathburn then relieved Lovett, didn't allow a hit and fanned two.

Circleville opened scoring in the first on a walk to Freddie Moore and a booming triple by Dick Kline which carried to the road in right center. The locals grabbed another in the second on successive singles by John Good and Hogie Dade.

Whitehall got its first run in the fourth on an overthrow of Dooley's punt and a double by Kitzmeir. Another came in the fifth on singles by Millington and Dooley.

Rathburn held the hard-hitting visitors at bay in the second game by scattering three singles. Robinson, Dooley and Kitzmeir got the hits.

Rookies, Castoffs To Determine Success

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The cloak of responsibility for the success of the fledgling American Football League has been draped squarely over the shoulders of such men as Jack Spikes and Paul Lowe.

If the newly organized circuit is to buck the established National League in the battle for the entertainment dollar, the untested rookies like Spikes and the tested castoffs such as Rowe will have to provide a top-quality brand of football.

They did just that as the AFL paraded its talent in weekend exhibitions.

Spikes, former Texas Christian stalwart who was a second team All-America selection, scored twice and kicked a pair of field goals as the Dallas Texans whipped the Houston Oilers 27-10 at Tulsa.

Lowe, a hand-me-down from the NFL's San Francisco club, grabbed the opening kickoff at Los Angeles, raced 105 yards for a touchdown and the hometown Chargers went on to defeat the New York Titans 27-7.

The NFL's new Dallas entry, with veteran Eddie LeBaron quarterbacking, made an unsuccessful debut at Seattle as the San Francisco 49ers defeated the Cowboys 16-10.

Spikes drove 1 and 3 yards for his touchdowns and kicked field goals of 22 and 48 yards to spoil the Oilers' debut. The other Dallas TD came on a 57-yard pass from Cotton Davidson to Johnny Robinson. Charlie Miltstead tallied the lone Houston touchdown on a 5-yard scamper.

Supposedly short at quarterback, the Chargers sprung former Occidental star Jack Kemp at the Titans. Kemp, who completed 15 of 33 passes, pitched for one touchdown and scored himself on a 24-yard run. Quarterback Dick Jamieson hit pay dirt for New York on a 6-yard dash.
